Attention Class of 2000: "Mandatory Minors"

Molly Devanney

On Wednesday April 2, Professor Ketcham attended the Student Senate meeting to clear up and better explain the mandatory Liberal Arts minors. He began by answering the three questions that everyone have been wondering about: "everyone needs to develop a Liberal Arts minor to satisfy your degree requirements; the credits used by the minor do not detract from your ability to minor in a functional area of Business; and finally, you do not need to declare your Liberal Arts minor at this time."

Bryant has recently been accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. The AACSB have altered the standards of accreditation, by reducing the number of business courses that you are able to take now with no more than sixty credits, which would end up being no more than 50% of credits used toward your degree. The sixty credit hours given to students to take the business core (30 hours), develop a concentration (18 hours), and through the use of free electives, develop a business minor (12 hours) without taking any extra classes. For those students who are planning to study Accounting or Applied Actuarial Mathematics, you cannot develop business minors without taking any other extra courses, due to the fact that the concentration requirements do not leave room for free electives.

On behalf of the Class of 2000, and the Senate, we would like to thank Professor Ketcham for his help in understanding of the New Program. If you would like to see a replay of the Senate meeting and what Professor Ketcham said, it will be replayed on Monday, April 7, at 7 pm on channel 34. There will be a mailing as well to all of the Freshman by the Curriculum Committee better describing all of this. Also, if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact any of your freshman Senators; please let your voices be heard. Thank you!

Revealing more on those "Lunar- tics"

An "earth ship" of old tires, a little wooden elephant and lots of mystified folks seem to be all that the Heaven's Gate cult left in the New Mexico mountains before heading to Southern California. "These were wonderful people," said Jim Thorsen, who bought the cult's compound last year.

But peering at a long, maze-like wall of symmetrically stacked tires, he admitted he had other thoughts. "OK, they were screwed up. But they were wonderful," he said.

San Diego authorities found 39 members of Heaven's Gate dead in a mansion last week, victims of a mass suicide. Ten had New Mexico driver's licenses, but authorities have found no surviving families in the state. It now appears the group moved to Southern California after its plans fell through for a permanent monastery at Manzano, about 55 miles southeast of Albuquerque.

Heaven's Gate members bought 40 acres and began building an environmentally sensitive, fenced and gated retreat center in the mountains in June 1995. It looked like they planned to stay. But in April 1996, all who knew them in the mountains say Heaven's Gate suddenly decided to leave.

About 25 members worked the land, while five or six commuted about 10 miles in Jeeps and Cadillacs to work in rented offices next to Gustin's Hardware store in Mountainair.

Gustin said the Heaven's Gate members were friendly, warm, thoughtful and neat. One member, Susan Elizabeth Nora Paup, 54—listed as among the dead—befriended Rachel Heard, 11, whose mother worked across the hall. Rachel said she would sit by the computer while "Nora" worked, and that they would chat about UFOs. When it came time to go, "Nora" gave Rachel a small, black, wooden elephant.

In their haste, the group also left behind admirers who couldn't understand why the polite members disappeared so suddenly.

Nobody plowed!

Okay, I've heard quite a lot of this over the past few hours. I suppose you all deserve some sort of explanation, and, thanks to an inquiring student named Kim, the reasoning behind the halting of plowing the student areas has become very clear. Due to students throwing beer bottles and snowballs at the snowplows, the Chief Groundskeeper, Bob Lawton, called his men off the job for the night. With mere canvas tops, the men were liable to be seriously injured by broken beer bottles.

Please show some courtesy to those at this college who are working to keep your safe little world happy. Vulgarities are not appreciated, nor are assault and battery. Sticks and stones do break bones, and words don't hurt much less. As Bob Lawton stated, "One of my men has only one eye; I really wouldn't want him to lose the other one!"

Despite the trouble brought on by those few problem children here on campus, Lawton was very eager to aid in the evacuation of a parking space. If you've been plowed in and would like help getting out, please call X6189, and within ten minutes someone should be there to help.

So, I hope you have all learned a valuable lesson here. Appreciate the help that is given to you; otherwise, you might find yourself wearing golf shoes to walk to class. And hey, if you have some free time, perhaps you could lend a helping hand. Thanks.

Freshmen, don't fret

Dear Students,

As we approach registration for the Fall '97 semester, there may be some confusion about "mandatory liberal arts" minors and their place in the program designed for you, the members of the Class of 2000. Much of this confusion is due to miscommunication, and the article in the March 27 Archway, while well-intentioned, does not completely reflect the options available to you as students. While I will provide more detail below, let me answer the three questions uppermost in everyone's mind: 1) Yes, you will need to develop a four course Liberal Arts minor to satisfy your degree requirements; 2) The credits used by the minor do not detract from your ability to minor in a functional area of Business; and 3) You do not need to declare your Liberal Arts minor at this time.

Bryant is accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). Accreditation by this organization is quite important. Of the thousands of colleges in this country, only about 300 are accredited by the AACSB. Accreditation is a stamp of approval that reflects the quality of our institution to prospective students, faculty, and corporate recruiters. Recently, AACSB modified the accrediting standards and slightly reduced the number of business courses you could take; now, no more than 60 credits (technically, no more than 50% of your credits toward degree) can be in business disciplines. The curriculum for the Class of 2000 reflects those changes.

The curriculum redesign was a three-year project, worked on by dozens of faculty. The resulting program contains many exciting new features, including new liberal arts and business cores, liberal arts minors, and a redefinition of traditional distribution requirements into modes of thought. Within the 60 credits allotted, most students can take the business core (30 hours), develop a concentration (18 hours), and, through careful use of free electives, develop a business minor (12 credits) without taking additional classes. Students concentrating in Accounting or Applied Actuarial Mathematics cannot develop business minors without taking additional courses, not because of liberal arts minors, but because the concentration requirements in those programs leave no free electives. Even if there were no mandatory liberal arts minors, students in those programs would be unable to minor in business because to do so would mean that they had more than 60 credits in business. The important point to remember is that the liberal arts minor was carved out of the old distribution requirements and does not prevent you from developing a minor in business. If the requirement were lifted, you would simply have more liberal arts courses to take, either in the modes of thought or as liberal arts electives. Eliminating the liberal arts minor would not add to your ability to take more business courses.

The faculty are quite proud of the new curriculum and believe that it offers wonderful opportunities for the Class of 2000. Course selection is an important part of developing a program tailored to your specific needs and career aspirations. I hope this letter clears up any questions, but if you have more, don't hesitate to contact me in Faculty Suite G (x6456, or e-mail: dketcham@keynes.bryant.edu), or Dr. Joseph Urgo in Faculty Suite F (x6386, or e-mail: jurgo@acad.bryant.edu). Good luck with your studies.

Sincerely,

David C. Ketcham, Chair
Bryant College Curriculum Committee

Your vote was appreciated

Dear Students,

I hope that for those of you that are facing second rounds of mid-terms, they are going well and recovering from the blizzard is going okay. I want to thank those students that supported my simple philosophy of "Putting Students First" and elected me the next Senate President of Bryant College. I also would like to thank my opponents for running an excellent campaign, and encourage them to continue in other ways to work for the students.

One of my goals for the next year is to keep an open line of communication with the Bryant community. It is important if I am to represent the students, that I am accessible and willing to listen. Thus I will over the next year write to the Archway frequently. I would also like to promote my 24 hour response time. Call, e-mail, write, or approach me with any issue and I will get back to you within 24 hours and get the ball moving on your issue, either personally or by delegating it to another Senator.

The other issue I would like to remind you of is accountability. The Senate is here to work for you, if there are actions that the Senate, Senators, or myself, take that you disagree with, call us on it. The Senate, like Bryant College, like the world, is not perfect. We will make mistakes, but work with students to fix them and learn from them, so that our job of representing the students happens quickly and effectively.

Again, I thank you for your support during the election, but now the real fun begins, in making sure Bryant College continues to be a great place to be. I encourage students to call me at 4942 or e-mail me at fdohner@acad.bryant.edu. Good luck on the rest of your exams and have a good week.

Sincerely,

Francis J. Doehner '98

"God Rocks"

In the April article by Carrie Bell, the Assistant Editor of U. Magazine, she stated that holy rock and rollers keep the faith and gain fans. Performers Rebecca St. James, Larry Howard, Audio Adrenaline, D.C. Talks, Petra, and Iona would agree with the dawn of a new music. God

Will bassist for Audio Adrenaline, stated, "I wanted it to be cool that you and still say something meaningful and cause-oriented. The songs are tools for the younger generation to glorify God and get some energy out." There is a large group of people of all ages who want a positive message in music. Contemporary Christian Music (C.C.M.) has grown into something of an empire, with bands in every category, from rap and pop to alternative and country, to please concerned adults and avid music fans alike, as was echoed by Bell's concerns.

Tanya Francis, a junior at Western Washington U, stated, "I like mainstream music, but it doesn't compare to really good Christian bands." She continued, "Christian music is a spiritual strengthening as well as entertainment. The Lord is worshipped in many ways, and the music is reaching out to believers on their level."

The Bryant radio station, 88.7 WJMF, airs "Powerline," as a public service, with Rev. Dev. at the controls. He will offer some selections from C.C.M.'s gifted artists.

When you need a spiritual boost, listen to Rev. Dev. on 88.7 WJMF. Be safe, take care, and God bless!

ARMY ROTC CORNER

By
Anthony L. Garifo

I hope everybody's Easter was an enjoyable event this past Sunday. The weather was nice all last weekend the high was in the 60's. This is why it was such a surprise to get hit with 24 inches of snow on Monday afternoon. Bryant College looked like a white blanket was thrown over it. Housing sign up for the 6 person townhouses went all this week so I hope everybody got the house they wanted.

The military ball is next week so I hope everybody's uniform is squared away and looking sharp. As for me my reserve unit has not given me a uniform to wear so I'll be attending the military ball wearing flip flops and a towel with my ribbons attached to my #%&#. If you need to have your uniform tailored you need to get it done now because it will take the cleaners at least three days to return it to you. I also have information about hotel rooms so that you do not have to worry about driving home after the ball is over. There are plenty of rooms left in the Quality Inn for $59.00 + Tax. They are located three miles up the road from Newport Officers Club. If you're interested give me a call at 232-8076 for the number to the hotel. The military ball looks like it will be a great time. Me as usual, will be bringing my camera so that I may catch those adorable Kodak moments.

Speaking of pictures if anybody besides me has pictures of the ROTC in action bring them to me or leave them in my box. The ROTC is trying to get a separate page in the yearbook showing our numerous activities that we participate in throughout the year. The pictures will be returned to you soon after the layout of the yearbook is done. The Army Physical Fitness Test is less than two weeks away so I hope everybody is preparing for it. One last note before I close E-Board elections were held the beginning of this week for the Society of Human Resource Management and I would like to say that I was elected Vice President. Well that's all I have so good luck in all the things you do this week.

Quote of the Week: Losers do their best, winners go home and #%$# the prom queen.

Theta Phi Alpha: Rock-
A-Thon for American
Diabetes Association
By Erica Martini

Theta Phi Alpha Sorority will be holding their annual Rock-A-Thon for the American Diabetes Association
April 8 through April 9. This event will take place in the Bryant Center. What is a Rock-A-Thon, you ask? Well it is exactly what it sounds like. We, the sisters of Theta Phi Alpha will take turns rocking in rocking chairs, which have been generously donated by Cardi's Furniture, for 24 hours straight. We will rock from 12:00 noon on the 8th to 12:00 noon on the 9th. Money will be raised by collecting donations before hand, as well as during the rocking period. After we are done, the rocking chairs, will be auctioned off for additional donations.

We would like to invite all of you to take part in a good cause and help us benefit the American Diabetes Association. We welcome you to the kick-off which will take place in the Bryant Center Tuesday, April 8th. This event has been very successful in past years and with your help its success will continue.

World Health Day

Bryant will hold its annual health fair on Monday, April 7, "World Health Day." The event, which is free and open to the public, will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in the Unistructure Rotunda, and is co-sponsored by The Good Health Benefit and CVS.

More than 20 health-affiliated exhibitors will offer free information, samples, and demonstrations. Free blood pressure, vision, and hearing screenings will be available, as well as massage therapy demonstrations.

A lecture entitled, "You and Your Doctor," will be presented in MRCI (in the Unistructure) at 2 p.m.

The goal of the fair is to increase health and fitness awareness through education. Exhibits reflecting this year's theme, "Emerging Infectious Diseases: Reduce the Risk," will also be featured.

Women's History Month Closing Ceremony

On Friday, April 4 at 7:00 pm in the Rotunda the Bryant Community will come together to celebrate the second annual Women's History Celebration.

A feature of the evening will be a concert-lecture by Robin Greenstein entitled "Images of Women." In a fun, lively, and thought-provoking show, Robin will take a look at society's attitudes towards women as well as women's feeling about their lives as expressed in Anglo-American and Afro-American folksong. Robin examines basic issues of love and fidelity, loyalty and desertion, subservience and independence in a wide variety of traditional music sung and played on guitar and banjo.

Tickets for this event are priced at $5.00 for students, and $10.00 for all others. This price includes an elegant dinner buffet. Tickets can be purchased at the Bryant Center Information Desk.

Matt Davies

Hello my name is Matt Davies. I am currently a junior running for Senior Senate as a representative of the Class of 1998. I have held many leadership positions on campus from Resident Assistant to Orientation Leader, and feel these experience have prepared me to serve the Senior Class.

If elected into office, I plan to accomplish what I set forth in my Presidential run:

- *Work with administration to cut wasteful spending and increase student budgets.

- *I will establish and e-mail and web access only room during finals to allow students to use Koffler computers for typing papers.

- *A new e-mail address for Senate (solutions@acad.bryant.edu) for students to voice their concerns if they cannot make the Senate meeting.

- *Use my programming skills to ensure the best Senior Events ever!!

This is my contract to the Senior Class and Bryant College as a whole. I will work for YOU to make this school a better place. If you have any comments or concerns, please contact me at X4036 or write me at mdavies@acad.bryant.edu.

Class of '98, remember to vote Matt Davies for Senior Senator on April 7th and 8th. The leadership of a President. The commitment to change.

Sean Kenny

I am Sean Kenny, seeking election as Senior Senator. I have been on senate for all three of my years at Bryant. Things which have been done while in senate are the induction of various new clubs and organizations, which I feel are vital for student involvement, Three fantastic Parents' weekends, and the first pancake breakfast during finals first semester last year. The reasons I feel I should be elected are simply this; anytime that a student mentioned a concern to me, I immediately took it to the powers that be to get an answer to the students as quickly as possible, which I will continue to do. I have served as the Chair of the Ways and Means committee, which allocates funds to the groups and organizations, Chair of the Food Operations. My diligent work has led to many improvements in our dining service, and expedient and cautious preparation of budgets for the major organizations for next year. These all come after the concerns, questions, and complaints of many of you.

Plans that I have for next year are:

- Proposal of a Registered Keg Policy to the President
- Restructuring of S.P.A.C for increased communication
- Integration of organizations programs
- Unifying the students concerns as one statement

I will strive to increase the school spirit at Bryant, through the promotion of events and the introduction of new ones. These are just some of the plans I hope to implement. I feel that I have done a more than adequate job representing our institution and plan to continue the service of the Bryant Community. For all three years, I have had an open door policy, trying to make myself as accessible to you as possible, the students. I will continue this with hopes of more people utilizing my abilities and capabilities. If you have any questions or concerns, please call me and let me know x4679. Remember on April 8 & 9 Vote SEAN KENNY for Senior Senator. Thank you for your support.

Steve Tully

Harold Peacock

Attention Class of 1998! For those of you who may not know me, my name is Harold Peacock, Jr. and I'm running for Senior Senator. I am a Junior Computer Information Systems major from Brooklyn, New York and I strongly believe that I have a lot to offer the Bryant community as a whole. But I can only do this with your support.

Upon arriving at Bryant College in the fall of 1994, I totally fell in love with the campus. The fact that the classes are relatively small, the friendly atmosphere, and the fact that it's very easy to get involved here. Bryant College has made an impact on me and I feel that I have made an impact at Bryant. In my freshman year, I joined the Multicultural Student Union in which I was elected Historian. That same year, I co-founded MSU's monthly newsletter - Cultural Flavor. In my sophomore year, I began to take full advantage of the leadership opportunities that Bryant had to offer. I was selected as a Resident Assistant in Hall 14 and I was offered an internship position at the NYNEX-Bryant College Telecommunications Center where I teach a bi-weekly Desktop Publishing seminar to students and business professionals. As my leadership skills matured, I began to take on more responsibilities. This year, I have served as MSU President and as a Resident Assistant in Hall 14. With my experience as a dedicated leader here at Bryant, I strongly feel that I'm ready to serve as a Student Senate representative for the class of 1998.

If elected into office, I promise to dedicated and committed to any job delegated to me from the Student Senate President and to any concern addressed to me by members of my class. With my experience as a Resident Assistant, I have had the opportunity to interact with many students. I've heard their questions, their concerns, and their arguments. It's because of this interaction that I also plan to be a strong liaison between the Class of 1998 and the Student Senate. In the past, I've noticed that there is a barrier between the student body and the Student Senate. Though as if we, the student body, do not know whom to depend on if we have a question regarding issues that not only affects our class but the entire Bryant community as a whole. As Senior Senator, I plan to tear down that barrier in several ways. One way is by generating a Student Senate E-Mail address for those who have questions about such things as issues that were raised at recent Senate meetings. Any questions e-mailed to the Senate will have an immediate response time of no later than 72 hours with a concrete answer. Such topics will possibly be raised at the next Senate meeting. I strongly believe that a vote for Harold Peacock can make a difference for the Bryant community. So make sure you vote "Harold Peacock for Senior Senator" on April 7th and 8th.

Scott Taylor

My name is Scott Taylor and I am running for re-election to the Class of 1998's Senate position. I have represented our class for the past three years here at Bryant. I have served on a variety of committees such as; Public Safety, Event Coordinator for Friday night of Parents and Family Weekend, Ways and Means, Chair of Special Olympics, Chair of Senior Service Award and Speaker of the Council. If re-elected my goals will focus more on the senior class. This would include having a premier class gift that will astonish future classes, and also working closely with the Senior chair in planning memorable senior events.

Furthermore, as we approach our senior year, we face many obstacles that we need to overcome in order to graduate from Bryant. These may encompass having a respectable GPA in your major, fulfilling all your core requirements, becoming accepted into a graduate school or obtaining a job. Your accomplishments have been based on your own decisions and the pathways you selected. Your experiences at Bryant will always effect your future. For instance, did taking a minor in CIS prepare you better for your career in Finance? I believe we should select our own career path instead of Bryant requiring us to take a Liberal Art minor. Is Bryant College following its mission statement and President Machtley's goal of being student oriented college? I will pursue these issues to ensure that students are not overlooked and controlled by administrators. Issues like these may not affect us now, but will future classes be smaller at Bryant because of this prerequisite? My goal as a Senior Senator is to assure that prospective students choose Bryant for its academic excellence and to continue to keep Bryant a highly accredited college. When we become alumnus we should all look in retrospect and be proud of being a graduate of Bryant. This positive attitude will attract more scholarly students to follow in our experiences here. Re-elect Scott Taylor..

Hello, My name is Steve Tully. I am running as a candidate for Senior Senator. I run with a great deal of experience in many leadership positions. As a Sophomore Senator, I put forth many important initiatives. The most important project I initiated was the Jarvis Action Committee. As chair of this committee, I made sure that the administration and athletic department would listen to issues concerning the Jarvis Center. More specifically I challenged the membership fee. I made it a priority to eliminate this excessive fee, and through a litany of meetings and rejections, we succeeded. As a result, students do not have to pay the membership fee, it is now a thing of the past. Over the last year I have been President of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity, and Captain of the Lacrosse team. Both positions required leadership of action. This is what I promise to every student at Bryant College; elected or not. Many times students hear "no", become discouraged and quit. This is not the attitude Bryant College Senior Senators should have. Our senior year is nothing to mess around with, and that is why I am willing to act on your ideas, and see them through to completion. Bryant College has amazing potential. Unfortunately many students in leadership positions are negative, and bring down the morale of the entire community. It is time to be positive, visionary, and active. Lastly, I'd like you to speak with me concerning any issue. I can be reached at x4011, and would be pleased to speak with all of you. When voting try to think of what you want your senior year to be like. If you want it to be a year of action, and not of long winded words, then vote for me Stephen L. Tully, Jr.(Steve-O)

Hello, Sophomore class. My name is Mike Dow, a management major. I am seeking the position of Junior Senator because as a class, we together can make a difference. I am for positive change at Bryant College. Being a Resident Assistant (RA) gives me ample experience and the resources needed to hold this position. Also I am an Orientation Leader for the incoming freshmen which provides me with pertinent information about the college as a whole.

Student involvement is a must in my beliefs to make this college surpass Bentley and Babson. I plan to propose through the proper channels that more student opinions be considered before making college based decisions. These decisions affect the students directly, so the students should have greater influence in this subject matter. Also I would like to see an increase in communication between faculty and students through discussion groups.

As a Senator a primary duty is to voice the students concerns, these past two years here at Bryant many students have brought various issues to my attention. I have taken those issues and acted on them immediately. All concerns from students that have been received, I am proud to say, have been justified. Some departments that I have worked closely with in these matters have been Aramark, Department of Public Safety, Physical Plant, Grounds Service, Career Services, Purchasing Dept., Counseling Services, Res Life, and the Office of Student Activities.

Another aspect of a leader is also shown by their involvement in and concern for the members of the community. I have participated and raised money for The Jingle Bell Run for Arthritis, The National Kidney Foundation, and served Christmas dinners for the needy at the Salvation Army.

I am a very gregarious, motivated, and dedicated person who is not afraid to take a stand for the student body. If at anytime you have questions, please call me at x4081 or e-mail me at jmdow@acad.bryant.edu. Please make your voice known on April 7th and 8th, Vote Mike Dow for Junior Senator.

Khoree Gale

Hello Class of 1999!!!! For those of you that don't know me - I'm Khoree Gale, from Salem, New Hampshire and I've been on Student Senate for the past two years. During my freshman year on Senate I worked on fund-raisers for the freshman class, public relations, Comfort Task Force Committee, Special Olympics, and Senior Citizens Prom. This year I'm diligently working on a survey concerning the future calendar for the students and faculty. I also chaired the Public Safety Advisory Committee in the fall with Chief Coronado in which we discussed and resolved many students issues about safety at Bryant College. With all of my credentials in mind, I firmly believe that I have the motivation, determination, and dedication to serve all of you! Next year is a new beginning for the Senate and I have some innovative and new ideas for the junior class. It's crucial that we seriously start planning ahead so our Senior year will be as exciting as expected. I realize exactly how much time and energy it takes to be an efficient senator and I am more than willing to accept the challenge! If anyone would like to ask me any questions concerning the upcoming calendar or any other issue, feel free to contact me at the senate office or call x4666. Thank you, and remember to vote!

Khoree Gale for Junior Senate!!!!

Matt Montour

My name is Scott Lushing. I will be running for a position as a Junior Senator on April 7th and 8th. I was born and raised in Westport, Connecticut. I first discovered my interest for politics in my senior year of high school while enrolled in an American Government class. I enjoyed debating, getting my point across, being heard, and realizing I can make things happen.

Since the start of my college career at Bryant, I have noticed some things that I have not liked. I have heard students like you discuss things you don't like. I now realize that instead of complaining I can take action. I can and will run for Junior Senator. Some of the issues I will address will concern all of you. I get upset when I see the parking lots half full on the weekends. I want more people to stay here on the weekends, and in order to do that we need incentives to stay. I know Bryant is currently trying to make things happen on weekends, but from what I hear it is not working. If elected I will push for more entertainment and social functions on campus. I will push for bands to come to campus, more events similar to the first night which received a huge turnout, all consisting of what you want, BEER GARDENS! I understand some people on this campus consume alcohol. I know having Beer Gardens will attract more people. This leads me into another issue, the opening of the "Pub" on campus. This will open in mid-May and will be an on campus bar, similar to the previous Country Comfort which closed last year. Many people were upset by it's closing, so I will do everything in my power to keep this pub on campus. I hope the school agrees with me when I say that I would rather have students drink on campus than take a chance at someone driving back to campus drunk. I am not advocating the consumption of alcohol in any way, nor am I condoning underage drinking. What I am doing is being aware. I want this campus to unite and stay here on weekends. Instead of complaining about how boring this school can be, I am going to make it fun, but I can't do that without your vote. I want you to realize there are many other concerns of mine aside for the social life on campus. I am interested in making sure all sports teams, club, and other organizations get the money they need. I will do all I can to fit everyone into the budgets. So remember on April 7th and 8th, vote Lushing for Junior Senator.

Alicia Manders

"Student Senate needs to retain more doers than dreamers"

One of the activities that I have engaged in that has the greatest impact to my qualifications is debating at a National Collegiate level. Since my enrollment at Bryant, I have been able to act as the sole member of a new pilot debate team (with hopes of reinstating the currently inactive club on a full-scale level). Through this experience I have further developed my public speaking and interpersonal skills, as well as my ability to take leadership roles and initiative. I have been responsible for the funding, travel, and future of this team. If elected to Student Senate, one of the issues I feel strongly about is increasing the budget for the clubs and organizations, so they will have the means to achieve their individual objectives.

Another important aspect that adds to my qualifications is my ability to listen to others. I think that every students opinion is a valid one, and I am confident in my competence in fairly representing the interests of others.

The main concern that I have heard from the student body is the dissatisfaction with the food services. Students are looking for more convenience (extended hours), value, quality, and reforms in the meals-per-week/point equivalency plans. I have noted many suggestions for changes (from changing the condiment set-up in South Dining Hall to having a meal plan as an acceptable form of payment at Pizza Hut). If elected, I would like to serve on the sub-committee of the Student Senate ("Food Operations" committee). The goal of this committee is to monitor and investigate the quality, service, and price of the food; and make recommendations of change. I would like to see the reforms take place as soon as possible, and would press for efficient and prompt decision making processes.

The final issue I would like to address is experience. You, as voters, should believe that the student elected has the skills and knowledge to be constructive. Previously, I had the opportunity to participate in volunteer legislative positions in my hometown (Brattleboro, Vermont), Greek life and Philanthropic events (at the University of Rhode Island- Alpha Chi Omega), student resident hall boards, and many other "representative" type positions throughout my high-school and college experience.

If you would like to see your opinion represented in modifications to student life, please remember to vote Alicia Manders for junior class senate. If you have any further questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at ext#4277.

Fellow Students of Bryant, I would like to introduce myself. My name is Matt Montour and I am a Marketing major from Holderness, NH. I am running for the position of Junior senator because I feel that our class needs a new and fresh voice to represent it. With half of our college careers already over, I feel that now is the time to begin making our mark on Bryant College. First let me tell you a little bit about myself and what I have been active in while at Bryant.

I have been involved with several organizations here on campus that I feel have prepared me to take on the additional responsibility of representing our class. First I was an Avenues to Success instructor. This experience taught me responsibility and how to effectively communicate and listen to students questions and concerns. Next, ever since my Freshman year, I have also been known as "Kid Sweetz" on 88.7 WJMF. While hosting my own radio show, I also served as a Training Director to orient new DJ's on the inner workings of the radio. This experience is rewarding to me because it gives me the opportunity to share my knowledge and work with others. Finally, by being a voting member of SPB and on the Concerts and Mixers committee, I have been able to learn the processes that make events happen at Bryant College. This is the most fulfilling club that I am involved in because it allows me to represent the students needs and wishes.

Basically, I know that I have what it takes to represent the students and all of their concerns. I want everyone to know that I will always be approachable and will always have time to listen. My main purpose is to serve my Junior class and represent us for an exciting upcoming year in the Senate. So, if you want your voice heard in Senate, vote Matt "The Real Deal" Montour for Junior Senator.

SENATE PLATFORMS

John Pratt

My name is John Pratt and I am running for the position of Junior Class Senator. I am a resident of Massachusetts and graduated from Georgetown High School. I feel that my background in high school and my early experiences here at Bryant, have prepared me for the leadership and responsibility that Senate offers. I feel that one of the reasons that I selected Bryant College was its size. After graduating from a class of 65 students, I was not looking for a very large school. The size of the campus, its outstanding reputation as one of the top three business schools in the nation, and the type of community atmosphere that is promoted here, brought me to enroll in Bryant. These issues are some of the reasons I would like to become involved in the Bryant Community. To me, the most important of these three issues is the community atmosphere. It is a community of students, organizations, and administration and the more we combine these three groups, the better off we are as students and the more effective Bryant College becomes.

In high school, I served as Vice President of the school's community service organization. This position allowed me to organize and assist on activities that were beneficial to my town and the surrounding communities. This organization tried to help those in need of assistance. We made donations for Thanksgiving, brought Santa Claus to a local shelter, and delivered Easter baskets to the elderly and to children at these local shelters. There were also other events in which we joined the causes of larger organizations, such as the Jimmy Fund or Project Bread. I have decided that with the type of work I did in high school, it was time to become more involved in our Bryant Community.

I feel that the Bryant Community can continue to grow through the inter-communication and interaction of organizations. If the organizations on campus could come and work together more often, Bryant would become a stronger community. The organizations of this campus play key role in the development of students on campus. These organizations could try to network more, giving students more opportunity to become more familiar with each other. This interaction between organizations could only be beneficial to the community.

This sense of community is one of the goals that I would like work towards as a Student Senator. I feel that the students are the most important thing that Bryant should concern itself with. If the students are unhappy, something must be done to correct the problem. Also, an increased interaction between the students/organizations and the faculty is important. These two branches of the college are important to the development of the student's future. As I Finance major, I also hope to become involved in the Ways and Means Committee, which determines budgets for many organizations. I welcome any other responsibilities that Senate or the students may give me as a Junior Senator.

I feel I have many skills that I can offer to our community and the student's of Bryant and I hope to receive your vote on April 7th and 8th. Thank you and I appreciate your support!

REMEMBER: JOHN PRATT FOR JUNIOR SENATE,
IT WILL MAKE A DIFFERENCE FOR OUR COMMUNITY!

James Warner

My name is James Warner and I am running for Junior Class Senate. I am a Management, CIS major from Madison, CT. During the past 2 years had the opportunity to serve on the Student Senate, and I would like to continue to serve the community.

Experience:

Freshman and Sophomore Student Senator
Freshman and Sophomore Peer Educator
Orientation Leader
Instructor for "Avenues to success" program
RCC for the resident halls

Directly Related Jobs:

Production of the Link every month
Disciplinary committee

A member of every senate oriented program on the campus for the past two years

I thank you for the opportunity to represent the Junior class next year and I hope that I can continue to go a great job for our College. I hope that everyone will come out and vote and one of those votes is for James Warner.

Robert Blain

Greetings! My name is Robert Blain and it would be my distinct honor to serve you as Junior Senator. I am a C.I.S. and English major from Trumbull, Connecticut. I have decided the time is now to do "whatever it takes" to "make it happen" at Bryant College!

Currently, I serve on the Student Programming Board, holding the faculty and Administration Chair Position. This opportunity has increased my involvement on campus, my leadership abilities, and my school spirit. These qualities, plus my connections with the faculty and administration, make me well suited to handle a plethora of matters to improve this college for the most important people:

THE STUDENTS!

I strive for perfection, and I will not rest until the students are happy. I have high hopes for Bryant and the following are highlights which I hope to accomplish:

Establish a higher degree of community spirit, with involvement of the faculty and administration. A small school has a lot of advantages, and community spirit is one of them!

Create an aggressive academic contact program.... Wouldn't it be great to have someone to talk to about you major, to assist you in your goals?

Inform the student body.... Ever felt "out of the loop?" Would you like to see the technology on this campus keeping you more in tune with Bryant programs and events?

I am an active listener, but shun the words "can't," and "not possible."

I welcome your comments and suggestions:

Call me at x4826 and/or email me at rblain@acad.bryant.edu

Robert Blain: Working for and with YOU in the future!

THANK YOU!

SOPHOMORES

Tim Bertrand

Hi, my name is Tim Bertrand. I am from Suffield, Connecticut. I have a strong family background and value the concept of the family very much. One thing that I have to say about myself is that I have always been a leader. My leadership experience ranges from being the Title IX sexual harassment peer educator for Suffield High School to attendance of many leadership seminars and close work with the High School's student senate. One of my main gripes with the Student Senate at Bryant College is the fact that many students have made suggestions that have been "thrown on the back burner." I believe that the students are the most important part of the college and their suggestions and ideas are what make the school what it is. My main goal is to value the student's suggestions and to follow through with turning them into reality. Your suggestions are important and your vote counts.

Thank You
Tim Bertrand

R. Patrick Carey

Hello, class of 2000, for those of you that don't know me my name is R. Patrick Carey. I am running for senator to represent you, the students. I have been active in school government for all my life. I attended Vermont Boy's State and was a senior senator at Rutland High School. I have continued this involvement at Bryant College. I am currently the president of the ski division in B.O.A.C and am on the lacrosse team. My platform will be developed by the class of 2000. Here are some of the ideas that you have already brought to my attention:

- New Meal Plan: have everything done by points to prevent missing meals
- Modernize Koffler with "Windows 95"
- Phone bills cheaper with new phone company or bring in a competitor
- More computers open in evenings (open the computer labs in the Unistructure)
- Encourage football and other varsity teams (thus attracting new students)
- Improve radio station with work study and commercials
- Help plan spring weekend (just as organized as parents weekend)
- Advisors assigned to each student and meeting held each semester

Class of 2000 it is time for a change. Vote R. Patrick Carey the senator who will make a difference.

SENATE PLATFORMS

John Coleman

My name is John Coleman, I am from Stamford, Connecticut, and I'm double majoring in Finance and Economics. I feel I am a good candidate for senate because I get along with people well, and I will listen to what the student body wants and follow through. In high school I was the manager of the school store senior year, and a member of the Future Business Leaders of America. In my spare time I enjoy golf, and skiing. I am a regional franchise manager for College Pro exterior home painters. In my job responsibilities include hiring, managing, and motivating employees, and estimating and booking all of my summer work.

My reason for running for Senate is simple, I want to represent the student body, not think for them. I will not sit in meetings and other functions thinking about what I would like, I will be thinking about what Bryant would like. If you are to elect me, do so because you feel I would do a superior job representing you the student, not because you like me personally, or support my ideas, because they are just that, My ideas. They are generalizations as to the direction I think that Bryant should head. My ideas are nothing without the support of the student body, and there are a lot of things that the student body wants accomplished that I probably will not think of. I am interested in being involved with government the way it should be, representing every sophomore at Bryant.

My goals are like that of any other candidate, to make Bryant a better place. I have a few ideas to accomplish this. First, I would like the senate to work with president Machtley in his quest to make Bryant more student oriented. I would like to make it easier for students to voice their opinions if they so wish, this promotes student involvement, which in turn promotes school spirit. I would like the student body to play a larger part in the budget process, putting students in some control of where their tuition money goes, they also will be able to suggest new ideas that could save the school money. I would like to have a special senate meeting to discuss the issue of school spirit, the answer to getting more involvement from the student body must come from the student body. The main issue I will deal with if elected is the student. In order to effectively do my job I will be reporting to, and gathering information from as many students as possible, so I may understand what they want. My goals consist of making the student body happy, and making their time at Bryant more enjoyable.

Molly Devanney

Hello, Class of 2000! For those of you who do not know me, my name is Molly Devanney and I am seeking re-election to serve our class as a Sophomore Senator. This past year I have served our class as the freshman class chair. I have had the opportunity to serve on various committees that will, and have had an impact on our lives here at Bryant College. The one that I have been recently working on is concerning the study lounges that will hopefully be impacted throughout the suite villages, so there is someplace where you can go to and study if you will be residing in the suite village.

Being involved is something that I have always enjoyed. While being here at Bryant, and having the opportunity to be part of the Student Senate, I have had the chance to learn from others what it takes to become a leader. Working in teams, inspiring others, being honest, competent, and appreciating teamwork, are all qualities that I think that every leader should have. I feel as though I

If elected as a Sophomore Class Senator, I promise you that I will work to the best of my abilities to serve our class. I feel that I can do this best by daring to dream, motivating others, being a team player, respect for others, the ability to communicate well with others, and honesty. Thank you, for taking the time to read this and remember to vote on April 7 & 8 for MOLLY DEVANNEY FOR SOPHOMORE CLASS SENATOR.

Brian McCarthy

Bob Fressola

I am asking you to once again elect me into the Bryant College Student Senate. I can honestly say that I have thoroughly enjoyed representing you in the Senate, and look forward to another year of hard work and dedication.

Experience:

High School:

- President and Co-founder of an environmental club
- President of Rotary International
- Owner/Producer of a Theater group
- Active member of Junior Achievements
- Taught The Junior Achievements Program to 6th graders
- Student Council all four years

College:

- Student Senator
- Orientation Leader for the summer of 1997
- Selected to be a Resident Assistant for the 1997-1998 school year
- Student Ambassador

Accomplishments As A Senator:

- Helped raise money for the Freshmen class
- Helped make Parents Weekend a success
- Made Senators more accessible to the students by listing their e-mail addresses in The Link
- Selected to be on the Ways and Means Committee (allocates funds to clubs and organizations)
- Make-A-Wish Foundation Committee

Future Goals:

- My main goal for the 1997-1998 school year is to make the senate a more approachable organization. I will personally work with our President-elect, Fran Doehner to set up booths around campus for students to voice their concerns, and ask questions about what the Senate is doing for them.

- I will also push for a student activities fee increase for the next school year, so our clubs and organizations can have more funds to provide quality activities for our students. By increasing the fee $15/year/person, we will increase the amount of money that we can allocate to our clubs by over $35,000/year.

Re-Elect

Bob Fressola
Sophomore Senate

Rupert King

Hello Bryant. My name is Rupert King and I am running to be re-elected to the Bryant College Student Senate. For those of you who do not know me very well, let me tell you a little bit about myself. I grew up in a small town located on the outskirts of the University of Vermont. I chose Bryant college because of its reputation, yet I have realized that there is definitely more to school than the classes. I have become actively involved in a number of activities in this school and I now realize that the most important one to me is the Student Senate.

I have heard a great deal of negative campaigning against the current Senators and I would like to clear a few things up. Parent's weekend was a wonderful event which was run by your student representatives. This year also marked the first year in which the Freshman had a fund raiser at this event. Senators have also worked a myriad of hours on personal problems which you have brought to our attention. I am not saying that the current Senate is the greatest, it is not, but it has done an excellent job, and rivals any other that will follow.

My agenda for this term is not a set plan. I intend to listen to what goals my constituents want accomplished and then use everything in my power to attain them. The lone goal which is now on my "agenda" is to work with the new E-Board of the Hunger Coalition in order to organize a Habitat for Humanity trip. I do not believe in saying something just to get elected and then forget about it, which is why I only have this one event planned on my agenda. The rest of my schedule is to be set by your thoughts and opinions, together we can make a difference.

-Thank you very much,

Classmates, I am Brian McCarthy seeking re-election as a Sophomore Senator. Throughout my first year here at Bryant, I have gained more leadership skills and experience than I thought could have been achieved in my whole college career.

My involvement with Senate has been both demanding and rewarding. Demanding because of the fact that it takes great time management skills and preparation to balance the work load received in classes and the various tasks of Senate. The first big event I was involved in with Senate was Parents and Family Weekend. This was a great success, but there was an enormous amount of time and effort put into to preparing it. It was such a great reward to put so much effort into an event and to see how much people enjoy themselves because of the amount of work put in. The Alternative Program has also been a great experience because I was able to help organize the different trips and courses and learn how to manage a program. My other involvement on campus has added to and proven my leadership ability, like, being selected as a 1997 Orientation Leader, 1997-98 Resident Assistant, and involved with Peer Education. Throughout all of my experiences this year, I believe that I am fully able to handle the responsibility of a Sophomore Senator and I am determined to accept it.

All the work I do in the Senate, I will do for you, my classmates, the Class of 2000. If you have any questions or concerns, my door is always open to you, in Hall 15 room 115 phone number 4936. And remember on April 7th and 8th, Re-elect Brian McCarthy as Sophomore Student Senator. And remember I will do "Whatever it takes" to get the job done. Thank you for your support.

Kim Muller

Hi! My name is Kim Muller. I am running for re-election to the Student Senate. For the past year I have been a dedicated and responsible member of the Senate. Presently I hold a position on the Ways & Means Committee, which allocates funds for clubs and organizations. Working on the Ways & Means Committee for the past year has affiliated me with the organization which will enable me to be a more effective member next semester. Also I worked in affiliation with other Senators on a student panel that met with the three potential Vice President's of Academic Affairs. As a newly appointed Orientation Leader for the incoming class of 2001, I will become more familiar with the administration, faculty and students. As well as practice my leadership skills while becoming in tune to what incoming students expect from Bryant College. If elected I would like to play a more concentrated role in parents & family weekend, by serving as a chairperson. If given the opportunity to serve as a sophomore senator I will put 110% of my efforts into making this a better Bryant community. With that in mind please vote for Kim Muller on April 7th & 8th.

Julie Piccirilli

Hello, my name is Julie Piccirilli and I am running for re-election to the Student Senate. I have been a Freshman Senator for the past year and I feel I have the experience, the hard work ethic, and the sincere concern for the student body. I believe I have the qualifications to serve the Class of 2000 for a second term.

In high school, I was very much involved in student government all four (4) years. I knew once I reached college, I would continue to be involved. I was elected as Student Council Secretary and Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) Vice-President in my Senior year. With these leadership positions, I took on the responsibility of chairing numerous committees. As I entered Bryant College this past fall, I brought with me the desire to be a student leader.

As a Freshman Senator, I served on the "Make-A-Wish" Committee, the Rotunda 'student friendly' Committee, and the 1996 Parents and Family Weekend Committee. My most recent project is the Reform of Academic Advising. "Each student should be able to have his/her own advisor to seek advice about his/her major and the courses that adhere to it. Now it is time to take some action" (The Archway, Editorial: J. Piccirilli, February 27, 1997). I strongly believe personal advising is essential. I am currently serving as a Student Representative on the task force with college administrators.

In addition, I currently work in the Office of Student Activities. This job entitles me to be constantly aware of activities and events occurring on campus as well as interaction with various student organizations. I have also worked in the Greek Life Office during my first semester here at Bryant.

It is with this sincere concern and dedication for the student body that I ask you to RE-ELECT JULIE PICCIRILLI FOR SOPHOMORE SENATOR.

Vinnie Poppo

Hello, for those of you who don't know me, my name is Vinnie Poppo. I am running for student senate for the class of 2000. Some of you remember the last election held in early September of our first semester. I didn't give a speech, and I lost the election, but the reason I didn't give a speech is because I really didn't know what to talk about. I didn't want to B.S. you into believing I could be elected and do great things for our class. I had no idea as to what the extent of a senator's power was. I find it hard to believe any of my opponents did either. Now after being here a year-I've seen what can be done and what needs to be done, and I feel, if elected, I can accomplish these things to make our years at Bryant the best years of our lives.

I think my record of involvement speaks for itself. I have tried to be as active as possible in the Bryant community. Yes, I lost the election in the beginning of the first semester, but I was an active participant. I also tried out for an Orientation Leader position. I made it to the last round but, unfortunately was not selected. I currently serve on Hall Government for Hall 14, and I am actively involved with the Bryant Singers. Last semester I was actively involved in the Coffee Talk meetings, sponsored by Bacchus, and I participated on my floor's basketball team for the freshmen tournament.

Here are some of the things I will work on to improve:

1. I heard many complaints from students on the menu at Salmanson.

Many students would like a healthier menu. I will work hard to see that Aramark changes their menu to better accommodate the students.

2. Another thing I have noticed is that the prices and amount we are allowed to spend at South Dining Hall are ridiculous. The prices are too expensive for the food served and our limit is way too low to get a reasonable dinner. As a senator I will work with Aramark and the Senate to rectify this situation.

3. As every student has noticed, when the geese decide to visit, the walkways between the Unistructure and the Bryant Center become littered with goose droppings. When elected, I will talk to maintenance and get them to send a clean-up crew on a regular basis to clean up this mess-so our campus is more pleasing to walk around.

4. I would also like to move Student Senate meetings once-a-month to the Rotunda. This will promote the Student Senate and get the student body more involved. I have heard from countless people that the Senate is a bureaucracy, and because of the location of the meetings, many people feel that they don't have a voice in what goes on. I want to change that image, I want people to get involved, so together, as a team, we can achieve more.

There are many other things that can be done to improve our campus. When elected my door will always be open for suggestions and your ideas. I commit myself to performing the best possible job I can. I want to work with you as a team to make these next three years at Bryant the best years of our lives.

A Promise of Commitment...

...A Commitment to Excellence

Vladimir Konopelko

Hi, I am Vladimir Konopelko. I am an international student from Russia. Now, I am a second semester freshman with my major in Marketing. Bryant College is my second undergraduate education. I have completed a Bachelor's Degree in Theology, in Russia, in Greek Orthodox philosophy. By coming to Bryant and the United States to get a second degree, I already have proven my open mindedness, eagerness to achieve goals, challenge myself, and take risks.

As a sophomore Senator I will not be afraid to voice the opinion of students and do my best to create change.

As my main points in the election I would like to propose more involvement of the Student Senate in student life through a phone hot line where every day of the week there will be a Senator responsible for calls from students. The Senator would be responsible for responding to the call and bringing it to the Senate. Also, to make the Student Senate more approachable and responsive, I would suggest a box in the Rotunda for student's suggestions and requests. I would like to raise the question of building more parking lots behind Hall 15 for the convenience of people who live in the Suite Village.

The Senate should be an organization not only made of students, but made for students.

As a foreigner with an unique background I can bring new, not standard ideas and decisions to the old Student Senate.

How was your Easter? How about a Noreaster?

This article has been stunted by my lack of any time in the past two weeks. Let's start off where we left off... Spring Break was a great time. A lot of tans around campus have yet to fully fade away. Big news lately has been housing. I hope everyone lives where they want to next year. I know we will. I would like to thank all of the Fraternities and Sororities who wouldn't let us down.

In other news.... Congrats to the new Theta Sisters on earning their colors. Good luck to all those seniors who are looking for jobs. And Finally, let's buckle up and party down.

Tuesday was quite eventful. Everyone got together for what is now a New England Holiday... "Snow Day." There were snow-ball fights and snow men, and even snow women. How do you distinguish a snow man from a snow woman? Snowballs. Another hot topic... My Lil' B had his 21st on Sunday night, and what a night... I'm sure Parente's is looking forward to having you as a patron in the near future. The on-the-floor/off-the-wall comedy routine was a hit. Quote of the week: "This ain't no joke, Hun!!" - Freak

Well, in spirit of struggling seniors, Top 10 things that Big 6 firms do with the resumes I send them:

10) Give it to their kids so they can draw on it.

9) Fold it up into a paper ball and shoot for 3 (my resume is worthier than a 2-pointer).

8) Roll it up and look through it (pretending to be a pirate).

7) Make Chinese stars to throw at each other.

6) Origami practice; impress the clients abroad.

5) Coasters for the after-hours parties.

4) Fold it up into a fan for these hot spring months.

3) Enter it into a pool they have going for "Resumes of people that are most likely to appear on America's Most Wanted." Current rollover jackpot... $346,534.29

2) What goes in those hot dogs, anyhow?

1) Who's got papers?

Well, that's all she wrote for now... Till next time. -Flobes

Phi Sigma Sigma

Sue Lednar

Hey! Hope everyone had a great weekend. Rappin' Rabbit made his way to L7. Sofy and Hailey would both like to claim the winner. Vic, thanks for the pick-me-up.

We would like to congratulate the new brothers of TKE. Now can we get the strainer back? Another congratulations goes out to Jill and Kathy for making the Order of Omega. Anyway, Kat would like to thank everyone who made her birthday great. By the way, how are the geese doing? The sisters would also like to thank Beta for a fun time on Thursday. The floor manager was off duty, so everyone got to enjoy themselves. Beta, you have been caught on candid camera.

The piggy-back crew was in full effect. They made their way to Dorm 10, where they redecorated the place.

While many went home on Friday, a few stayed behind. Thanks to Phi Kap for the entertainment. Dameon, why do you like the speaker seat?

As for the crazy snow storm, a long study break was in order because of the lack of lights in the library. Thanks to Treech for the errand. Well, after the magnet lost effect, a huge snow brawl went into session. A piece of advice: never stand unbalanced. Hailey and Sofy were nothing but trouble heading towards Dorm 10. We were able to get everyone involved. Hailey got to see how the trees are rooted.

Also because of snow, the snow tube was in full effect till Sunny and Berger discovered a stone wall. Berger, you win. -Love Sunny.

We would like to double thank Beta for the wake up call. We knew those shovels would come in handy. Glad to see Screech up and running. Tigger was beat up by every staircase on campus that afternoon. Many sisters went blind while looking out the window, and it wasn't because of the sun's reflection.

On the floor there seems to be a huge source of pistachio shells. Treech and Duff, would you happen to know about this? KT made their way up to the floor wondering if anybody was out there. Hailey would like to challenge Ckoco to another game of checkers; this time the winner has to be followed by a blue car.

Well, Snakebite is coming up next week; look forward to a good time. The countdown is also on for the formal and the competition for record-setting dates.

Hadjii would like to advise that if we had those fun-loving moving sidewalks, there would be no need for classes. Montigo would also like to ask Lush if he was sleeping on the phone. Sahara, Keep your head up! Till next week!

Student Senate

Scott J. Rattigan

Hello everyone. The Student Senate is finally back on the column scene after a brief hiatus. First, congratulations to the newly elected 1997-98 Executive Board. The officers are: President - Francis Doehner, Vice-President - Brian Willinsky, Treasurer - Craig Taylor and Secretary - Barbara Walsh. Good luck in your term!

Speaking of elections, voting for the Legislative Body will be this Monday and Tuesday, April 7 & 8. Voting will be open to all freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Please take a few minutes and vote. Have a say in who represents you!

In other news, congratulations to the Women's Lacrosse Club for having their constitution passed last week. The Bryant Blitz Party Day will be held on Wednesday, April 16. Watch for more details. Nominations for the Penny Stone Emerging Leadership Award are due back in the Student Activities office by Wednesday, April 9. If there is anyone interested in helping with the Senior Citizen's Prom, please contact Craig Taylor A.S.A.P. This year, the prom will be held on Friday, April 18. Finally, there will be one more SPAC meeting, but the date, time and place have yet to be determined, but we will let you know.

Well, that's all for this week. Remember that the Student Senate meets every Wednesday at 4:00p.m. in Papitto Dining Room. There are only a few meetings remaining in the semester, so get out there and let your voice be heard!

Special Olympics

Deanna Marchand

We would like to thank all of the students who participated in the Donate A Meal program. It was well appreciated and will benefit the games a great deal. We would also like to thank everyone who signed up to volunteer. We are still looking for people to help out the day of the games.

The Special Olympics management team is currently deciding on a theme and a theme song. We are working on fund-raisers and looking for sponsors. Last week, we met with Chris Hopkins, the competition director for the Northern Rhode Island and state Special Olympic games. We hope you all enjoyed the day off on Tuesday. There's snow on the ground now, but hopefully it will be warm and sunny by May 3 for the games. See you next week!

WHY SHOULD I SELECT A PSYCHOLOGY MINOR?

"Psychology is a dynamic field. Psychologists have skills that are very adaptable and hold great promise for dealing with public needs...opportunities have never been greater." (Jack Wiggins, presidential address to the American Psychological Association, August, 1993)

Learn more about yourself and others. Recent research (e.g., Sheehan, 1994) has revealed that psychology study enhances student personal development by:

- Greater recognition of the factors that influence human behavior.
- Improved personal relations & greater tolerance of human diversity.
- "...Interpersonal skills...a major factor in the success of managers and executives..." (Wall Street Journal, February 6, 1996)

"...Students need the skills to solve unstructured problems...and need communication and interpersonal skills..." (Wall Street Journal, November 28, 1994).

1993 Money Magazine ranks psychology:

- fourth in the top 50 occupations with the brightest prospects for available positions in the 21st century;
- seventh among the top 26 professions in entry level salaries;
- seventh in terms of median salaries and fifth in top salaries.

Fortify and broaden your major. For example, strengthen the behavioral aspects of Management and Marketing or add a behavioral dimension to Accounting and Finance.

By documenting a Psychology Minor on your resume, you will demonstrate the diversity of your educational background and enhance your career prospects.

Psychology is the second most popular undergraduate degree in the United States. Business Administration is #1 (APA Monitor, 2/1996).

Better position yourself for graduate study in the behavioral sciences.

HOW DO I FIND OUT MORE ABOUT THE BENEFITS OF A PSYCHOLOGY MINOR?

Contact any of these professors. They will cheerfully provide the information you need.

OFFICIAL RULES

1. How to Enter: NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. Complete the entire official entry blank being sure that you have answered all the questions and deposit it in the specially provided entry box no later than April 18, 1997. Mechanically reproduced entries not eligible. All entries become the property of Aramark and will not be returned. Sponsor and Morden-Kane, Inc. are not responsible for printing errors, for mutilated, illegible, or incomplete entries; or for late, lost, postage due, or misdirected mail.

2. Judging: Winners will be selected on or about May 2, 1997 in a random drawing from all entries with the correct answers received at sweepstakes headquarters as follows: One (1) winner from each of the participating schools will be selected to win $300.00, an Earthwatch varsity-style jacket and a membership in Earthwatch. The odds of being selected as a winner depends upon the number of entries received from your school with the correct answers.

Each school winner will then be entered into the grand prize drawing, and one (1) student will be selected as the winner. The odds of winning the grand prize are 1:15. This entire promotion is under the supervision of Morden-Kane, Inc. an independent judging organization who reserves the exclusive right to interpret all conditions in regard to this promotion without claim for damage or recourse of any kind. By participating in the sweepstakes, entrants agree to be bound by the rules and the decision of the judges that shall be final.

3. Notification: Winners will be notified on or about May 6, 1997 via certified mail, return receipt requested and the grand prize winner will be required to sign an Affidavit of Eligibility and Publicity/Privacy Release that must be returned within 14 days from date of notification. If the affidavit is not returned within this time period properly executed, or is returned from the post office as undeliverable, an alternate winner will be selected. Winners grant permission to the use of their name, photograph/likeness for advertising and promotion for this and similar promotions without compensation, unless prohibited by law.

4. Prizes: (1) Grand Prize: A Bahama Islands Whales & Dolphins Expedition. Trip consists of, when applicable, air transportation (economy coach), from and to a major international airport nearest the winner's home, requests for transfer to Earthwatch Bahamas Islands Whales & Dolphins Research Team location, a place on the Earthwatch Bahamas Islands Whales & Dolphins Research Team scheduled for June 16-28, 1997 (planned food and accommodations provided). ARV approximately $3,500.00 depending on point of departure. All other personal expenses, including ground transfers, are the sole responsibility of the winner. (15) First Prizes: $300.00 cash plus an Earthwatch varsity-style jacket and membership in Earthwatch. ARV $500.00.

5. General Conditions: By accepting the prize, the winners agree that the prizes are awarded on the condition that the Aramark Corporation and their agents, representatives and employees will have no liability whatsoever for any injuries, losses, or damages of any kind resulting from acceptance, possession, or use of the prize. Winners further acknowledge that said parties have neither made nor are in any manner responsible or liable for any warranty, representation, or guarantee expressed or implied in fact or in law, relative to the use or enjoyment of the prize.

All taxes are the sole responsibility of the winner. No prize substitutions permitted. Prizes are not transferable.

6. Eligibility: Sweepstakes open to all persons age 18 and over. Employees and their immediate family members of Aramark Corporation, its divisions, subsidiaries, affiliates, advertising and promotion agencies, and any other persons involved with this promotion are not eligible. Void where prohibited by law. Subject to all Federal, State and local laws.

7. Winners List: For the name of the Grand Prize winner and the 15 individual school winners, available after 6/1/97, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Aramark Eco-Adventure Winner, c/o Morden-Kane, Inc. P.O. Box 703, Sayreville, NJ 08871-0703.

BASEBALL PREVIEW

American League Team Capsules

(in order of predicted finish)

With the Baseball Season already underway, here's a look at your favorite teams.

American League East

Toronto Blue Jays

On the Mound: The Blue Jays have the best rotation in the American League. Cy Young Award winner, RHP Pat Hentgen (20-10, 3.22 ERA), anchors a staff that was fourth best in the AL in ERA. RHP Juan Guzman enjoyed a great season as he went 11-8 with a league leading 2.93 ERA. RHP Erik Hanson is a consistent 13-17 game winner. Toronto added to their rotation with the addition of former Boston great, Roger Clemens. Closer Mike Timlin should improve on last year's numbers (1-6, 31 saves).

At the Plate: The Blue Jays do not have any consistent hitters in the lineup, but they do have a couple of players who are capable of lighting up the score board. If Toronto is to win the East, 1B Joe Carter will need to improve on his 1996 performance (.253, 30 HR and 107 RBI). 3B Ed Sprague is a relatively unknown, but he can definitely hit the ball out of the park as evident of last year's 36 HR.

Outlook: Toronto should be able to contend for the division with their pitching staff. Now if they can hit, then the Blue Jays should win the East.

New York Yankees

On the Mound: New York lost several key members in last year's great run. LHP Jimmy Key and WS MVP John Wetteland left via free-agency. RHP Mariano Rivera will now step into the closer position. Outside of Andy Pettitte, the starting rotation is full of question marks. David Cone is coming off an injury-filled season. Dwight Gooden, who pitched a no-hitter in April, is inconsistent and simply wore down last year in September. Much of the team's success depends on how well Cone, Gooden, and David Wells perform.

At the Plate: OF Bernie Williams made a name for himself during last year's World Series run. Offensively, the Yankees should be fine if Williams (.305 and 29 HR) continues his superb play. 1B Tino Martinez (25 HR, 117 RBI) and Rookie of the Year SS Derek Jeter (.314, 78 RBI) are quality players who should provide the Yankees with similar numbers this year. The key will be getting production from other hitters in the lineup.

Outlook: New York should be in a tough race for the East with Toronto and Baltimore.

Baltimore Orioles

On the Mound: The starting rotation combined for a dismal 5.14 ERA. Even pitching ace, Mike Mussina, who won 19 games last year, had an usually high 4.81 ERA. Newly acquired Jimmy Key will be key. The bullpen is perhaps the strongest part of the team with hard throwing right-hander Armando Benitez as the setup man, and dependable Randy Myers as the closer.

At the Plate: Offensively, Baltimore hit more homers (257) than any other team in the majors. The Orioles will need similar offensive numbers from (1B) Rafael Palmeiro (39 HR), OF Brady Anderson (50 HR), and 2B Roberto Alomar (.328 avg.) to keep them selves in ball games while the pitching staff develops.

Outlook: The Orioles should contend for the division if their pitching staff can keep them in games.

Boston Red Sox

On the Mound: The loss of Roger Clemens will hurt less if former Braves hurler, LHP Steve Avery can live up to his potential. RHP's Tom Gordon (12-9, 5.59 ERA), and Tim Wakefield (14-13, 5.14 ERA) are nothing to talk about. However, they will eat up innings and that could be good the Red Sox relief pitching. Closer Heathcliff Slocumb has an impressive second half last year and ended up with 31 saves with an ERA of 3.02.

At the Plate: 1B Mo Vaughn is a legitimate MVP candidate. Last year, Vaughn hit .326 with 44 HR and 143 RBI. However, he cannot be just the only offensive threat for Boston. The loss of Jose Canseco, and Mike Greenwell are going to hurt the team offensively unless someone else on the team steps up. The likely candidates are CF Darren Bragg, OF Reggie Jefferson, and 2B John Valentin. Valentin will need to change his attitude and accept his new position as the Red Sox are committed to Nomar Garciaparra at short.

Outlook: Boston will need outstanding performances from several pitchers, as well as better defensive play if they are to have a winning season.

Detroit Tigers

On the Mound: The Tigers had one of the worst pitching staff in Major League history last year with a team ERA of 6.38. Detroit starters averaged only 5.3 innings per start, and that's just part of the reason why the bullpen is so weak. LHP Justin Thompson is the only major league caliber pitcher on the staff.

At the Plate: The Tigers have plenty of potential here with many capable batters including All-Star Travis Fryman (22 HR, 100 RBI). OF Bobby Higginson enjoyed a breakthrough season by batting .326 and slamming 26 home runs. OF Melvin Nieves and Brian Hunter can also provide some offensive spark for the Tigers.

Outlook: Another rebuilding year for Manager Buddy Bell. The Tigers will finish last in the East, but should improve on last season's performance.

American League Central

Cleveland Indians

Pitching: The Indians still have one of the best rotation in the Junior Circuit. Charles Nagy has the stuff to be a number one starter. Jack McDowell, Orel Hershier, and Chad Ogea are steady and consistent. The bullpen led the American League in ERA last year, and this year should be no different with Jose Mesa serving ing as the closer.

At the Plate: Even with the loss of Albert Belle's power, Cleveland is still a threat every time at bat. Speedy OF Marquee Grissom (.317, 75 SB) will ignite an engine that still includes 1B Jim Thome (38 HR, 116 RBI), OF Manny Ramirez (33 HR, 112 RBI), and DH Julio Franco (.322, 76 RBI). The pickup of 3B Matt Williams (.302, 22 HR) from San Francisco and Atlanta's Dave Justice should provide power in the lineup if they remain healthy for the entire season.

Outlook: The loss of Belle might even be more beneficial than many believe. The Indians will now learn to play as a team and this will be helpful when September rolls around. Remember, Cleveland is still very talented and should win at least a wild card berth, if not the division.

Chicago White Sox

On the Mound: With Alex Fernandez leaving via free agency, Wilson Alvarez will now be the number one starter. Jaime Navarro, James Baldwin are steady. Doug Drabek is no longer what he used to be, but he is still a decent pitcher. Excluding Roberto Hernandez, who saved 38 games and had a 1.91 ERA last season, the bullpen is weak. Middle relief is a cause for concern with little depth and consistent pitchers.

At the Plate: Imagine this for a lineup: 1B Frank Thomas (.349, 40 HR, 134 RBI) batting third, newly acquired OF Albert Belle (48 HR, 148 RBI) at cleanup, 3B Robin Ventura (34 HR, 105 RBI) batting fifth. Throw in DH Harold Baines (22 HR, 95 RBI) and opposing pitchers will have nightmares for days. Finally, watch for rookie OF Mike Cameron to make a contribution. He batted .300 with 28 HR in 123 Double AA games.

Outlook: The offense will win many games for the White Sox, but when September comes calling, it is the pitchers who will have to answer the call. The teams success will be contingent on how well Alvarez and company pitch.

Milwaukee Brewers

On the Mound: Ben McDonald (12-10, 3.90 ERA) and Scott Karl (13 wins) return to a steady rotation. Rookie Jeff D'Amico (6 wins) should hold his own against most teams. Cal Eldred is coming off reconstructive elbow surgery, and his reemergence as a dominating pitcher is key. The bullpen is the weakest part of the team. Mike Fetters (32 saves) is a good closer, but the middle relief needs to improve.

At the Plate: 1B John Jaha enjoyed a great breakthrough season by blasting 34 HR and bringing in 118 runs last year. Jaha joins a lineup that will not light up the scoreboard like the White Sox. However, with DH Dave Nilsson (.331, 17 HR) and SS Jose Valentin (24 HR), Milwaukee should be able to put a few runs on the board.

Outlook: The Brewers are an interesting bunch. If their pitching holds up, and the offense is able to generate runs, this could be a very tough team to face. They are a few pitchers away from being a serious contender for the Wild Card.

Kansas City Royals

On the Mound: The starting rotation is the team's strength. With dependable Kevin Appier (14 wins, 3.62 ERA) anchoring a group that includes veteran Tim Lincecum, who led the team in wins with 15, 22-year old Jose Rosado (8-6, 3.21 ERA) and rookie Jim Pittsley (7-1 in Triple AAA). The bullpen is steady with closer Jeff Montgomery (24 saves) returning from off season surgery.

At the Plate: The lineup is completely re-vamped. 1B Jeff King (30 HR, 111 RBI) and SS Jay Bell (13 HR, 71 RBI) arrived via the trade route with Pittsburgh during the offseason. Their leadership, especially Bell, should help this relatively young team. 2B Jose Offerman had his best season last year with a .305 average, and should reproduce those same numbers. Johnny Damon (.271, 25 SB) will improve with the acquisition of slugger Chili Davis (28 HR) behind him.

Outlook: The Royals won't be easy win if teams do not come to play. A talented pitching staff should keep them in most games.

Minnesota Twins

On the Mound: The starting rotation is suspect with Rick Aguilera (8-6, 5.42 ERA) as the ace. Frank Rodriguez improved as the season progressed, however his numbers (13-14, 5.05) were nothing to celebrate about. Bob Tewksbury (10-10, 4.31) should help the staff with his experience, but his age will soon be catching up with him. The bullpen is searching for a closer with Eddie Guardado and Mike Trombley designated as closers during spring training.

At the Plate: 2B Chuck Knoblauch (.341, 13 HR, 45 SB) seems to get better every year. OF Marty Cordova (.309, 16 HR) and DH Paul Molitor (.341, 113 RBI) will have to produce similar numbers. The addition of C Terry Steinbach (35 HR, 100 RBI) from Oakland should give the lineup a little pop, but the Twins will need other players to make a stronger contribution.

Outlook: The team's success will weigh heavily on the performance of the pitching staff. This should be a very scrappy team on offense, which might create problems for teams who overlook them.

American League West

Seattle Mariners

On the Mound: Pitching ace Randy Johnson (5-0, 3.67 ERA), if he remains healthy, will be the rock in the rotation that includes former Montreal Expos pitcher Jeff Fassero (15-11, 3.30 ERA, 220 K) and Jaime Moyer (13-3, 3.98 ERA). The bullpen is the weakest link on the team. Closer Norm Charlton (4-7, 20 saves, 4.04 ERA) was inconsistent last year.

At the Plate: Luckily for the pitchers, Seattle can really hit the ball. OF Kenny Griffey Jr. (49 HR, 140 RBI) is a potential triple crown candidate every year. DH Edgar Martinez (.327, 26 HR) and OF Jay Buhner (44 HR, 138 RBI) along with Griffey fill out the 3-4-5 spots in the lineup. Talented SS Alex Rodriguez (.358, 36 HR, 123 RBI) could get even better.

Outlook: Seattle will be a tough team to face in September. They have proven that the past two years. If everyone remains healthy, the Mariners will win the West and should advance in the playoffs.

Texas Rangers

On the Mound: For Texas the key word is depth. The Rangers starters won an AL-high 75 wins last year led by Ken Hill (16-10, 3.63 ERA). John Burkett (5-2, 4.06 ERA with Texas), Bobby Witt (16-12, 5.41 ERA), and Roger Pavlik (15-8, 5.19 ERA) are steady pitchers. The bullpen received a much needed boost with the signing of WS MVP John Wetteland (43 saves).

At the Plate: OF Juan Gonzalez (47 HR, 144 RBI) and 3B Dean Palmer (38 HR, 107 RBI) provide much of the offensive punch. Don't forget about OF Rusty Greer (.332, 18 HR) or the best catcher in the game, Ivan Rodriguez (.300, 19 HR).

Outlook: If the pitching staff can produce similar numbers like they did last season, then Texas could be playing in October.

Anaheim Angels

On the Mound: The rotation will need to step up quickly before the Angels fall too far behind in the division in first third of the season. Reliable Chuck Finley (15-16, 4.16) anchors a relative weak staff. Mark Langston (6-5, 4.82 ERA), and Allen Watson (8-12, 4.61) will need to improve on their numbers from the previous year. The bullpen is Anaheim's strength with hard throwing Troy Percival (36 saves, 2.31 ERA) as the closer.

At the Plate: Outfielders Tim Salmon (30 HR, 98 RBI), and Jim Edmonds (.304, 27 HR) are excellent players, but they cannot carry the Angels. New DH Eddie Murray (22 HR, 79 RBI) will need to provide some punch in the lineup.

Outlook: Two years after their famous collapse, the Angels are rebuilding-again. For these Angels to contend, someone other than Salmon, or Edmonds will need to produce big time.

Oakland A's

On the Mound: The starting rotation is young and inexperienced with names like Ariel Prieto, Willie Adams, and John Wasdin. Who? Exactly. The bullpen isn't much better with Bill Taylor (17 saves) serving as the closer.

At the Plate: With the bash brothers being re-united, this could be a fun bunch to watch when they come up to bat. Mark McGwire smashed 52 HR in just 423 at bats. If he remains healthy for the entire season, kiss good-bye to Roger Maris' record of 61 HR in a season. Also don't underestimate Of Geronimo Berroa either. He also slammed an impressive 36 HR last season.

Outlook: This could be very long year for the A's unless they get amazing performances from their

National League Team Capsules

(in order of predicted finish)

National League East

Atlanta Braves

On the Mound: Can it get any better? The Braves are loaded again after re-signing John Smoltz, last season's Cy Young winner. In fact, in Smoltz (24-8, 2.76 K), Greg Maddux (15-11, 2.72 ERA) and Tom Glavine (15-10, 2.98 ERA), the Braves own the last 6 Cy Young Award. And it gets better, Denny Neagle (16-9, 3.50 ERA) will contribute much more than departed Steve Avery. The bullpen is solid with Mark Wohlers (39 saves) bring the heat. Middle relief is the only question mark on this talented staff.

At the Plate: The Braves hit more home runs than any other NL team, with the exception of Colorado. 3B Chipper Jones (30 HR, 110 RBI) is a rising star, OF Andruw Jones has star potential, 1B Fred McGriff (28 HR, 107 RBI) is as steady as they come. By acquiring Cleveland OF Kenny Lofton (.317, 75 HR), the Braves will bring excitement on the bases. Lofton is the key to Atlanta's engine. The trade to OF Dave Justice was made mainly to cut costs and make room for future prospects like 2B Tony Graffanino.

Outlook: The Braves should win the East, but it won't be easy. Expect Florida to make a strong run against the Atlanta. However, you just can't beat the best pitching staff in the league.

Florida Marlins

On the Mound: The Marlins have three quality starters in the rotation with the addition of Chicago White Sox hurler Alex Fernandez (16-10, 3.45 ERA). He joins Kevin Brown (17-11, 1.89 ERA) and Al Leiter (16-12, 2.93 ERA), who threw the franchise's only no-hitter last season. Florida will do well, if Pat Rapp (8-16, 5.10 ERA) can emerge as a legitimate fourth starter. The bullpen is anchored by Rob Nen (35 saves, 1.92 ERA), who converted 20 of his last 21 save opportunities.

At the Plate: The signing of Moses Alou (21 HR, 96 RBI) from Montreal bolsters a lineup rich with sluggers. OF Gary Sheffield (.314, 42 HR, 120 RBI) is triple crown threat, 1B Jeff Conine (26 HR, 95 RBI) is the team's heart, OF Devon White (17 HR, 22 SB) is steady, SS Edgar Renteria (.309, 16 SB) and 2B Luis Castillo (17 SB) are potential stars. Ex-Orioles Bobby Bonilla (28 HR, 116 RBI) at 3B should provide added punch in the lineup.

Outlook: The Marlins didn't spend $89 million during the off-season to watch baseball in October. This is a talented team that should give Atlanta a run for their money. Look for them to make the playoffs as a wild card.

New York Mets

On the Mound: Much of the Mets success will depend on how well their young pitching staff responds after a disappointing season last year. Jason Isringhausen and Paul Wilson combined for an 11-26 season last season, while Bill Pulsipher didn't even play. If the Mets are to go anywhere, these three will have to perform up to their potential. The addition of Armando Reynoso (8-9, 4.96 ERA) from Colorado should help Mike Clark (14-11, 3.43 ERA) put stability in the rotation.

At the Plate: C Todd Hundley enjoyed one of his finest seasons last year as he belted 41 HR and brought in 112 runs. He will need several others to step up at the plate for the Mets to score runs. Likely candidates include OF Bernard Gilkey (30 HR, 117 RBI), John Olerud (.274, 18 HR) and OF Lance Johnson (.333, 50 SB).

Outlook: Mets could be in for a good season if three pitchers have great seasons. Offensively, they should be able to manufacture a few runs to support the pitching staff.

Montreal Expos

On the Mound: The Expos are left with one quality pitcher after the departure of Jeff Fassero to Seattle. Pedro Martinez (13-10, 3.70 ERA) will need to mature and provide leadership to this young staff. The bullpen will be tested quite often, and if they respond, the Expos could win a few more games than expected.

At the Plate: OF Henry Rodriguez (36 HR) enjoyed a great season, however he is prone to strikeouts (160) last season. SS Mark Grudzielanek (.306, 33 SB) has star potential, but the real key to Montreal's success will be Rondell White (.293, 41 RBI) needs to stay injury-free and become a legitimate power hitter to replace the loss of Alou.

Outlook: Montreal continues to trim their payroll. Somehow they win every year with little in terms of no big name players. However, this year will be a little tougher than years past. For manager Felipe Alou.

Philadelphia Phillies

On the Mound: This is a question mark on a team of question marks. Curt Schilling (9-10, 3.19) is their best pitcher, Ricky Bottalico (34 saves) is an excellent closer. Other than those two, the Phillies are desperate.

At the Plate: This lineup should have opposing pitchers drooling. Consider that Philadelphia batted .262 as a team and had only 132 HR as a team! Who will emerge as a solid hitter? I have no clue.

Outlook: Can you say, "Wait til 1999"?

National League Central

St. Louis Cardinals

On the Mound: The rotation is perhaps the best in the Central. Andy Benes (18-10, 3.83 ERA), Donovan Osborne (13-9, 3.53 ERA) and Todd Stottlemyre (14-11, 3.87 ERA) are great pitchers than will give opposing teams problems. Alan Benes (13-10, 4.90 ERA) is a very capable pitcher. The bullpen should be dependable again with Dennis Eckersley (30 saves) as the closer.

At the Plate: This lineup could be very interesting with a great balance. If you want power, look to OF Ron Gant (30 HR, 82 RBI), 3B Gary Gaetti (23 HR, 80 RBI), OF Ray Lankford (21 HR, 86 RBI), and OF Brian Jordan (.310, 107 RBI). If you want speed, 2B Delino DeShields (48 SB), Lankford (35 SB) and SS Royce Clayton (33 SB) should give pitchers something to worry about.

Outlook: This is a veteran club that knows how to win. Manager Tony La Russa is a genius at keeping his teams focused.

Houston Astros

On the mound: Shane Reynolds (16-10, 3.65 ERA) and Darryl Kile (12-11, 4.19 ERA) were steady and dependable last season. The key for rotation will depend on how well Mike Hampton (10-10, 3.59 ERA) and Donne Wall (9-8, 4.56 ERA) perform this year. The bullpen is suspect with new closer John Hudek with the loss of Todd Jones.

At the Plate: The team is talented from top to bottom. 2B Craig Biggio (.288, 75 RBI, 25 SB) is underrated, 1B Jeff Bagwell (.315, 31 HR, 120 RBI) and OF Derek Bell (17 HR, 113 RBI) will provide punch in the 3-4 spots. 3B Sean Berry (.281, 95 RBI) will shock a few people with his numbers this year.

Outlook: The Astros could win the division if they get clutch hitting and strong pitching performances from their middle relief.

Cincinnati Reds

On the Mound: Led by John Smiley (13-14, 3.64 ERA), the Reds are hoping that the rotation will fall into place by late May. Dave Burba (11-13, 3.83 ERA) needs more support when he pitches. If Pete Schourek makes it back from elbow surgery, then the Reds will be tough to beat. The bullpen is very dependable with Jeff Brantley (44 saves) as the closer.

At the Plate: The return of Deion Sanders should at the very least bring some excitement into this lineup. SS Barry Larkin (33 HR, 89 RBI, 36 SB) is always a MVP candidate. 1B Hal Morris (.313, 16 HR) is consistent year-in and year-out. But for the Reds to be successful, someone else needs to have a big season.

Outlook: They could challenge for the division if they get great pitching and score some runs. Otherwise, this could be a long year even with Sanders' return.

Chicago Cubs

On the Mound: The rotation isn't that great, but it serviceable with all-star Steve Trachsel (13-9, 3.03 ERA) returning. Newcomer Kevin Tapani (13-10, 4.59 ERA) should help stabilize that includes Frank Castillo (7-16, 5.28 ERA), and Amaury Telemaco (5-7, 5.46 ERA). Mel Rojas will be the closer this year. He finished last season with a 7-4 mark and 36 saves.

At the Plate: OF Sammy Sosa was the team's MVP last season after he belted 40 HR in just 124 games. If he stays healthy, this could be a very productive season for the slugger. 1B Mark Grace (.331, 75 RBI) should provide some punch in the lineup as well.

Outlook: The Cubs could be interesting if they can learn how to play as a team. However, they won't be playing baseball in October this year.

Pittsburgh Pirates

On the Mound: The team is entirely full of young players. Their number one starter is Jon Lieber (9-5, 3.99 ERA) has just 44 career starts in the majors. The rest of the staff is just as inexperienced. The bullpen is anchored by John Ericks (8 saves) and Marc Wilkins (4-3, 3.84 ERA).

At the Plate: C Jason Kendall (.300, 42 RBI) will now be the leader of this young team. OF Al Martin (18 HR, 72 RBI) and SS Kevin Elster (24 HR, 99 RBI) are the only power hitters in the lineup.

Outlook: The Pirates are young, and their inexperience will be hard to overcome.

National League West

Los Angeles Dodgers

On the Mound: There is no question if the Dodgers can pitch or not. With Ramón Martínez (15-6, 3.42 ERA) and Hideo Nomo (16-11, 3.19 ERA) anchoring this team, LA led the NL in pitching. Ismael Valdes (15-7, 3.32 ERA) is also another key figure in the starting rotation. The bullpen is a little shaky in the middle, but Todd Worrell (44 saves) is in the elite class of closers.

At the Plate: C Mike Piazza (36 HR, 105 RBI) is a gem at the plate, but a defensive liability behind it. 1B Eric Karros (34 HR, 111 RBI) provides punch in the lineup as well as OF Raul Mondesi (24 HR, 88 RBI).

Outlook: The Dodgers should be in the thick of the chase for the NL West when September rolls around. They will win if they play with enthusiasm otherwise they underachieve like they have the past two years.

Colorado Rockies

On the Mound: Even though everyone thinks that the thin air in Denver is a pitcher's nightmare, there are those who have managed to overcome such fear. For instance, Kevin Ritz as become the Rockies number one starter and a quality big league pitcher anywhere. His 17 wins tied for third in the NL. He is joined by Jamey Wright (4-4, 4.93 ERA), Mark Thompson (9-10, 5.30 ERA) and hopefully a healthy Bill Swift, who basically sat out his first two seasons at Colorado with shoulder injury. Bruce Ruffin (24 saves) is a proven closer, and the bullpen is Colorado's strength.

At the Plate: The Rockies have put together two back to back seasons with four player hitting over 30 HR. This year it could be five players if OF Larry Walker remains healthy. Consider this lineup: OF Dante Bichette (31 HR, 141 RBI), Andres Galarraga (47 HR, 150 RBI), Ellis Burks (40 HR, 128 RBI), Vinny Castilla (40 HR, 113 RBI), and Walker (18 HR in 83 games). By the way, the Rockies led the NL in stolen bases with 201. 2B Eric Young had a league leading 53 last season.

Outlook: The Rockies will be a cat fight for the NL West with the Dodgers and Padres. They will win if they can learn to win on the road. They were 55-26 at home, and only 28-53 on the road.

San Diego Padres

On the Mound: Andy Ashby (9-5, 3.23 ERA) leads a very talented staff that got stronger with the arrival of lefty Sterling Hitchcock (13-9, 5.35 ERA). Joey Hamilton (15-9, 4.17 ERA) and Fernando Valenzuela (13-8, 3.63 ERA) are quality pitchers that should give the Padres an edge every time out. Closer Trevor Hoffman (9-5, 44 saves) is expected to produce similar numbers again this year.

At the Plate: 3B Ken Caminiti is perhaps the most valuable player on this team due to his defensive play. But he can also hit as evident of last season's numbers: .326, 40 HR, 130 RBI, 11 SB. OF Greg Vaughn (31 HR) and OF Steve Finley (30 HR) will provide more power in the middle of the lineup. Hey, don't forget about Tony Gwynn (.353, 11 SB) and his ability to place the ball softly in the outfield.

Outlook: San Diego will be in a great race for the NL West with the Dodgers and Rockies. They will win if Caminiti remains healthy throughout the year, and their pitchers can reproduce last year's effort.

San Francisco Giants

On the Mound: The rotation is weak. Mark Gardner (12-7, 4.42 ERA) is the only reliable starter. The bullpen isn't much better either. Ex-Indian Julian Tavarez comes over to a staff that severely needs a setup man. Rod Beck (35 saves) is the closer, but he also blew 7 save opportunities.

At the Plate: OF Barry Bonds (.308, 42 HR, 129 RBI) is a triple crown threat every year. 1B J.T. Snow (17 HR, 67 RBI) should provide offensive help once he recovers from the Randy Johnson fastball he took in the left eye during a spring training game.

Outlook: The Giants have signed Bonds through the 1999 season, and it might be that long before they will contend for anything.

Bulldogs Weekly Round Up

BASEBALL:

The Bulldogs (7-10, 1-0 NE-10) split two games at Quinnipiac last weekend.

Bryant jumped out to a 19-0 lead in Friday's 21-10 win. Junior leftfielder Luke Robustelli (Bristol, CT/Bristol Central) had a career day, going 3-for-6 with eight RBI, three runs scored, a home run and a double to pace the Bulldogs in their conference opener. Junior first baseman Brian Hurleigh (E. Williston, NY/Wheatley School) went 4-for-4 while senior shortstop Vic Donato (Port Chester, NY/Port Chester) added three hits and two runs scored. Senior lefthander Matt Goodfinger (Randolph, MA/Randolph) picked up his first win of the season, going five innings, striking out five and allowing just two unearned runs.

The Bulldogs bounced back from an 11-1 deficit Saturday but fell just short, losing 11-10. Sophomore centerfielder Jason Eldridge (Belchertown, MA/Belchertown) had two hits and three RBI and Donato went 3-for-4 with two runs scored. Hurleigh recorded three more hits to lift his average to a team-high .415.

The second game of the double-header with Quinnipiac was rained out. Bryant's games with UMass-Lowell and Johnson & Wales were also postponed.

Arizona did nothing fancy

Rick Burke

Monday night, March 31, seemed too good to be true. The Arizona Wildcats won the national championship in overtime over the defending champion, the Kentucky Wildcats, and the students at Bryant would soon find out Tuesday classes were going to be canceled. Although I had a few interruptions during the game (like losing power and playing balderdash), I did manage to keep track of what was going on at least when it counted.

Those of us who watched the game saw Arizona guards Miles Simon and Mike Bibby play sensationally. I believe Simon played on a different level. The captain's emotional leadership electrified all of the Arizona players. I agree Bibby unanimously deserved MVP. However, as we know one player does not win games, total team efforts must be given credit as well. There were many questions before the game referring to what Arizona needed to do in order to win. Would they be able to handle the feared Kentucky pressure? Would they be able to play TEAM defense and use their quickness as an advantage? The answer was obviously a simple YES!

THE UNSUNG HERO: In a society where the motto is "show me the money," unsung heroes are almost extinct. These are the athletes who will never wear an NBA uniform or are not going to be starring in any shoe commercials, but always leave practice with a floor burn. Jason Terry, who is known as the little guard who wears his socks up high, deserves a little recognition for his efforts. For a man who was admitted to the hospital following the North Carolina victory, he showed the heart of a champion. In the last five minutes of regulation and overtime, the ball should have been in the hands of Kentucky's future NBA lottery pick Ron Mercer. Terry would not allow it to happen; he was not doing anything special, just doing his job of playing tough fundamental denial defense. Kentucky attempted to run Mercer through a variety of picks and screens but were forced to have an "ice cold" Anthony Epps heave prayers from behind the 3-point mark and come up empty. Eventually, the twenty-year old Mercer got frustrated and committed two quick fouls to pick up his fifth and end his short stay at Kentucky.

The entire Arizona defense and outstanding success at the free throw line proved to be the difference in this battle of the "CATS." Ron Mercer, the soon to be millionaire, was limited to less than ten total shots in the game (1 for 4 in the first half for 3 points). It just goes to show that when 12 GUYS (not 6 or 8 or even 11) play hard and remain focused on one common goal, good things happen. They will all be back next year!

ATHLETE of the WEEK

Luke Robustelli, Baseball

Robustelli, a junior outfielder, had a career day as he went 3 for 6 with eight RBIs, three runs scored, a home run, and a double as Bryant defeated Quinnipiac last Friday.
